

Other Program Objectives Definitions

The sample form can be used to describe all other program objectives, not covered by the service objectives. Definitions of the terms used on the sample form are listed below.

Note: All programs must submit at least three additional program objectives. One should address the management (i.e. recruiting, training, supervising, evaluating, and recognizing) of program volunteers. The second should address program outreach efforts. And the third should address a coordinated community response to sexual violence (e.g. the creation or maintenance of a Sexual Assault Response Team).

Goal:	Specifies the general result to be achieved Addresses what result is desired and why it is desirable
Objective:	States a single, measurable result that contributes to the goal All objectives must be quantified
Activities:	Describes the strategies used to implement the objective
Timeframe:	Explains when the activities will occur
Performance Measures:	Shows how the objective will be evaluated Quantifies the objective or activities (similar to targets for services)

Example

Goal:	To promote awareness of services for sexual assault victims who have not yet disclosed their abuse, and to provide and/or refer them to appropriate services
Objective:	To provide ten, one-hour, presentations to 200 students in local high schools, and refer students to needed services
Activities:	Meet with school administrators to set up presentations. Meet with school counselors to discuss intervention plan. Attend PTA meetings to answer questions about proposed presentations. Develop curriculum. Develop list of resources for victims. Conduct presentations with pre and post tests. Distribute evaluations and resource list. Provide services to all students who disclose sexual abuse. Provide follow-up services as appropriate. Report on activities to DCJS through semi-annual reports.
Timeframe:	Meet with school administrators and counseling staff in October. Attend PTA meeting in November. Develop curriculum by January. Conduct presentations between February and April. Provide services and/or referrals to victims on an ongoing basis as appropriate. Compile pre and post tests and evaluation results by May.
Performance Measures:	Ten presentations will be conducted. Pre and post tests of the students will be performed to measure their awareness of services available to them in the community. Presentation evaluation results will be reviewed to assess impact and to guide future revisions of the curriculum. It is anticipated that approximately twenty students will disclose their abuse histories to sexual assault center staff. Staff will provide ongoing services and/or referrals to these victims, as appropriate.
